128	SEN	Gonpo Tsering		贡布次仁		M	33	Dzoeye county	Ngaba TAP, Sichuan province	3	expedition guide	23-Mar-08		#####	Gonpo Tsering was an expedition guide in Tibet who was sentenced on September 19, 2008 to three years by the Dechen TAP People's Procuratorate court, in Yunnan province, according to sentencing documents received by the Dui Hua Foundation. This is the first known sentencing in Yunnan province in connection to the '3.14 incident'. Gonpo Tsering was initially detained on March 23, 2008 by the Dechen TAP PSB under the suspicion of inciting 'splittism'. A PSB investigation determined that Gonpo Tsering sent "inflammatory emails and messages that distorted the facts and the true situation regarding social stability in the Tibetan area following the 'March 14 incident'" between March 16 and 18, 2008, violating Article 103(2) of the Criminal Law of the PRC. An appeal of the case was upheld by the Higher People's Court of Yunnan province on January 5, 2009. As noted by Dui Hua, it does not seem that Gonpo Tsering was represented by legal counsel during his appeal and possibly during his original trial.

Police took him to an unknown location in Lanzhou, Gansu's capital. Prior to that, PAP detained him on March 21 in Xiahe on suspicion that he participated in political protests a week earlier (he had not). Police interrogated, beat, and tortured him over a 2 month period at locations in Xiahe and Linxia city. He was hospitalized twice then released on bail after police forced him to fingerprint a statement saying that he had not been tortured. Jigme Gyatso posted on YouTube.com a video of himself recounting the experience. VOA featured the video in a September 3 report. Jigme Gyatso told AP in a September 13 telephone interview that police had accused him of speaking to foreign media and human rights groups and charged him with "illegally providing intelligence" to such groups.

185	DET	Kalsang		格桑	Gesang	M	25	Chone	Kanlho TAP, Gansu		Monk	March 23, 2008			CECC: Based on a TCHRD prisoner list, on March 23, 2008, security officials in Zhuoni (Chone) county, Gannan (Kanlho) TAP, Gansu province, detained at least 25 Akhor Monastery monks for protesting on an unspecified date. It is not clear, however, whether "Akhor" is the correct name of the monastery. The Tibetan Government-in-exile reported that officials detained "many" monks of Chone's Tashi Choeling Monastery after they protested peacefully on March 23. China Digital Times reported that on March 16 monks protested at "many" Gannan TAP monasteries, including in Zhuoni, but that there were no "clashes;" on March 17, however, protesting students broke shop windows. Reuters reported that Zhuoni protesters damaged official buildings and property in "mid-March." Xinhua reported rioting during protests on March 14-19 in six Gannan counties, including Zhuoni. Details are not available about Kalsang's protest activity, place of detention, or charges, if any, against him.

When the body was released to the family there were clear signs of torture and brutal beatings. Paltsal Kyab's brother, Kalsang, who now lives in exile, told ICT that according to witnesses who saw his body, "The whole front of is body was completely bruised blue and covered with blisters from burns. His whole back was also covered in bruises, and there was not even a tiny spot of natural skin tone on his back and front torso. His arms were also severely bruised with clumps of hardened blood." At least three people testified to police that Paltsal Kyab had persuaded the Tibetans protesting in Charo on March 17 not to be violent, according to Kalsang. Paltsal Kyab would later turn himself over to authorities on April 17 or 18 after hearing that the police had been to his home and harrassed his family while looking for him. They shouted slogans calling for Tibetan independence, the Dalai Lama's return to Tibet, and the Dalai Lama's long life. PSB and PAP personnel detained the nuns en route and beat some nuns severely. On May 18 or 19, officials detained Phurbu Tsering Rinpoche, a Tibetan reincarnated teacher who founded and headed Pangri nunnery and who was associated with Kardze Gepheling Monastery. He may have refused to cooperate with patriotic education instructors, according to RFA. The nuns were angered by patriotic education campaigns and demands by officials that the nuns denounce the Dalai Lama and (according to RFA) Phurbu Tsering. Phurbu Rinpoche was sentenced to 8.5 years imprisonment. The lawyers who represented him during his trial were not allowed to attend his sentencing after having their licenses revoked
