Methodology

Methodology

This document presents the results of a study conducted by Ifop. It complies fully with the scientific and the deontological principles that are required to be followed when carrying out opinion surveys. The results that it reveals reflect opinion at the time the survey was carried out as opposed to predictions.

No material may be published – either in total or in part – without Ifop's express consent.

Ifop study for:	International Campaign of Tibet
Sample	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Sample of 1000 people, representing people in France aged 18 and over. • Sample of 1003 people, representing people in Germany aged 18 and over. Quotas were used to ensure that the samples used were properly representative (sex, age, occupation of the interviewee) after stratification by GEOGRAPHICAL AREA and town size (France), by Länder (Germany).
Data collection method	The interviews were conducted using self-administered on-line questionnaires (CAWI - Computer Assisted Web Interviewing).
Survey dates	France : March 10th – March 13th 2014 Germany : March 10th – March 14th 2014

The International Campaign for Tibet was established on March 15, 1988 to support the Tibetan people's struggle for human rights and democratic freedoms. From a handful of dedicated individuals, ICT has grown into an international organization empowered by the vision of His Holiness the Dalai Lama. ICT works internationally with governments, parliaments, journalists, and other NGOs to leverage global influence to improve the situation of Tibetans. In the effort to achieve its goals ICT faces a formidable opponent in the Government of China and its exponentially greater resources it uses to attempt to shape the narrative on the Tibet issue. ICT, a 501(c)(3) organization, maintains offices in Washington, DC, Amsterdam, Berlin, Brussels, and a field team in Dharamsala, India. ICT, which is member of FIDH, has a partnership agreement with the Australian Tibet Council. More information at www.savetibet.org

The wish to see Xi Jinping and the Dalai Lama in a face-to-face meeting

Question : The Dalai Lama has never been able to return to his homeland since 1959. Chinese leaders have not met with the Dalai Lama since he fled into exile. The Dalai Lama is seeking a negotiated solution to the issue in Tibet.

Personally, are you in favor or not of a face-to-face meeting between Chinese President Xi Jinping and the Dalai Lama?
